The District Grand Prefect would like to warmly invite you and your partner / friends to the AMD London Spring Luncheon, which is being held at the Bleeding Heart Restaurant in the City.

The afternoon promises to be one of fine food, fine wine and fine conversation combined with a frisson of horror as criminologist Attilio Grandani regales us with tales about Jack the Ripper. Attilio has over 20 years' experience as a Ripperologist, and is renowned for applying a range of psychological techniques by which the audience's imagination is transported into the past. Descriptive, educational, and slightly off the wall is how his talks can be characterised!

Places are limited, so please use the attached form to book your tickets by 1st April. Non-members are also most welcome.
